LIFT QUARANTINE ON NEXT MONDAY

All but Eight Adams County Townships will be Freed the Early Part of Next Week. Safe Permits will be Given in All Others.

In a telephone conversation to The Gettysburg Times this afternoon Dr. C. J. Marshall, state veterinarian, announced that on next Monday the quarantine for hoof and mouth disease would be removed from every township in Adams County except the following: Berwick, Conewago, Germany, Hamilton, Mt. Pleasant, Oxford, Reading and Union. It will be noticed that these are the districts in the southern and eastern sections of the county where the disease has appeared. The northern and western ends have not been affected and will be released entirely.

Regarding the releasing of the townships still under quarantine after Monday, Dr. Marshall said that he thought they too would be free inside of a month. He continued,

"Unless there are new cases found we should be able to clean up the present infection in a very short time. Some other cases may be found. There was another farm discovered Tuesday and there may be one or two others. In a month, however, we should be able to release Adams County entirely."

The Times called Dr. Marshall's attention to the inconvenience which would be experienced by farmers in the townships still under quarantine regarding the holding of sales.

"We have arranged that matter satisfactorily", he said. "A farmer living in a quarantined township and desiring to have sale need simply apply to our department at Harrisburg and we will send an agent to examine his premises and his stock. If everything is all right he will get his permit and can go ahead and arrange for his sale. On the day of the sale we will again send one of our agents and he will give the necessary permits for moving the stock. Sales can therefore be held on every farm where there is no danger of spreading the disease."

Dr. Marshall explained to The Times that these agents would be sent upon request and without charge to the farmer asking for the sale permit.

The above constitutes the best news that Adams County farmers have had for many days. It is in line with Dr. Marshall's promise made at the Fruit Growers' convention several weeks ago and first published in The Times. The arrangements for the freeing of certain townships, and for the holding of sales under permits from Harrisburg also appears in The Times exclusively to-day.

The herd condemned on Tuesday was a small one, consisting of two cows, on the farm of D. S. Sell, near Sells Station. The disease was contracted through secondary infection and was carried by pigeons, it is thought.

ENTERTAINED FRIENDS

Young Folk Gather at Carlisle Street Home.

Miss Jeanne S. Heindel entertained a number of her friends at her home on Carlisle street Tuesday evening. Those invited were James Gilliland, Robert Hartley, Keith Berger, Rex Gilbert, Seimar Hess, Hadley Heindel and Bronley Ammon of York; and Misses Ruth Stallsmith, Elizabeth Evans, Lucile Bender, Elizabeth Huber, Elizabeth Bigham, Louise Waidlich, Elizabeth McIlhenny, Myrie Stouffer, Lorene Roth, Louise Bender, Martha Major and Margaret Major.

WANT MORE ROOM

Appropriation for Hagerstown Post Office Addition Recommended.

Secretary McAdoo has sent to Congress a supplementary estimate of appropriations required for carrying on the work of construction of public buildings already authorized by previous acts of Congress. Among the appropriations he recommends is one of $30,000 for completing the post office at Hagerstown, together with an additional appropriation of $2,000 for rent of temporary quarters for the temporary accommodation of government officials at Hagerstown.

WILL BUILD FRAT HOUSE ON CAMPUS

College Trustees Grant Privilege to Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity. Students will have to Stay for Commencement Week.

Permission to erect another substantial fraternity house on the campus, the establishment of another group in the curriculum, and a change in the closing work of the school year were among the activities of the Board of Trustees of Gettysburg College which met in Harrisburg on Tuesday in its annual mid-winter session.

The local chapter of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity was granted permission to erect a chapter house north of Glatfelter Hall equipped with kitchen, dining room, pool room, gymnasium, swimming pool and bowling alley privileges. This part of the campus will be established as a sort of "fraternity avenue". Sigma Chi already having a lodge there and Theta Phi some time ago being granted permission similar to that now given Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The trustees also decided to allow two members to room in each fraternity house, to act as caretakers. Permission to erect dormitory houses was refused some time ago but it is believed that it will be advisable to have one or two students there all the time. Had this been the case at the old A. T. O. house, that disastrous fire might have been prevented.

The new course established will be known as Group 3, and will be the History and Political Science Group.

Instead of finishing the school work for the three lower classes each year on the Friday or Saturday preceding commencement week, their last examinations will not be given until Monday or Tuesday of that week. This will have the effect of keeping the entire student body here for the exercises of commencement, whereas a large number formerly went home as soon as their last examination was taken. This change will require the deferring until September of announcing the class honors. Senior honors will continue to be announced on Commencement day.

It was also decided to make compulsory attendance at the evening church service on baccalaureate Sunday. That is the time of the annual address to the Y. M. C. A. of the college and the action will insure a large attendance of students.

Stephen Remington Wing, acting professor of mechanical and electrical engineering, was advanced to a full professorship.

Resolutions of regret over Dr. Dunbar's illness were passed which also expressed the gratification of the Board over his improved condition.

Dean Shailer Mathews, of the Divinity School of the University of Chicago, was granted the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. Dr. Mathews is a writer and lecturer of national reputation and is the President of the Federated Council of the Churches of Christ in America. The constituent bodies of this Council consist of thirty of the leading Protestant Evangelical denominations in America numbering 16,000,000 communicant members and 20,000,000 additional adherents. He will leave in the very near future on a special mission to Japan.

The oldest living graduates of Gettysburg College are Rev. William Gerhardt, of Martinsburg, W. Va., 97 years old and Rev. William F. Eyster, D. D., of Crete, Neb., 93 years of age. Rev. Dr. Eyster entered college from Harrisburg, and was graduated in 1839 while Rev. Mr. Gerhardt entered from Berlin, and was graduated with the class of 1841. Dr. Eyster is therefore a college graduate of 75 years standing and Rev. Mr. Gerhardt is a close second with 73 years to his credit as a college man. As far as known, the alumni histories of no other college in the country show such remarkable age records or so long a time since graduation from college as stand to the credit of these two men. The Board adopted suitable resolutions of congratulations which will be formally engrossed and sent to them.

At a meeting of the joint committee appointed by the board and the alumni to publish the Pennsylvania College Book, the resignation of Dr. E. S. Breidenbaugh as editor was received, and its acceptance recommended for favorable action by the alumni at their meeting in June.

Prof. A. R. Wentz was chosen as historian of the college.

WILL FIGHT THE LIQUOR LICENSES

All but Two Town Hotels and Other Licensed Places Involved in Remonstrances Filed by County Temperance Interests.

Alleging that they do not have a sufficient number of signers whose names are not on other liquor license applications, remonstrances have been filed against the re-licensing of Hotel Gettysburg, the Lincoln Way Hotel, City Hotel, Washington Hotel, Eagle Hotel, Gettysburg Bottling Works, John Kimple's wholesale liquor store, and Hartzell's restaurant, all in Gettysburg; and John D. Mayers, and Mrs. Mary Riffe, of Littlestown.

It will be noticed that the Battlefield Hotel and the Wabash Hotel are the only two licensed places in Gettysburg not affected by the action.

The law covering the matter provides that license cannot be granted where there are less than twelve names which do not appear on any other application. The petitions in question have as low as three separate signers as is the case with the Eagle Hotel application, to eleven signers each for the Washington House and Mrs. Riffe, Littlestown. One signer's name appears on five petitions, while four are on four each.

The action is brought by Wm. and Wm. Arch McClean, attorneys for the Anti-Saloon League and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

The following names are given on each remonstrance as those whom the attorneys represent:

A. I. Weidner, president; F. E. Taylor, secretary; C. F. Floto, treasurer; Luther McGarvey, E. Stocks-lager, J. B. Baker, C. S. Reaser, E. P. Miller, S. Gray Bigham, Samuel Bream, C. W. Baker, and W. E. Gove, of the Adams County Committee of the Anti Saloon League; and the following representing the Adams County W. C. T. U., Miss Annie Sheely, president; Mrs. Helen Keith, vice president; Mrs. Mary E. Gove, treasurer.

MANY THANKS

Gettysburg Santa Claus Gave Happiness to Mountain Folk.

The messengers of Santa Claus in Gettysburg may feel amply rewarded for their time and trouble if they will read this letter from a woman living in the mountain above Biglerville. It was sent to Santa Claus, in care of the Gas Company office, and said:

"The one pair of shoes was too narrow for the little girl so I gave the little boy's shoes to her and they are all right. Please send a pair for the boy like you did send. They are such nice little shoes. The children were certainly pleased with everything they got, except the little boy ten years old. There was nothing in for him. He wanted a raincoat but he said that maybe he ought not to ask for so much. He wished that he had asked for a warm pair of gloves and a sweater for school. He cried a little so the boy 14 years old gave him his knife, so he was pleased.

"It would have been a sad Christmas if it had not been for your kind people. Many thanks to you. They say there were children's underwear and bedclothes given out to the poor. I certainly could have made good use of some for it's pretty cold up here in the mountain."

H. F. WOLFERSBERGER

Harry Funk Wolfersberger, proprietor of the Central Hotel, Waynesboro, died Monday evening, at 9:10 o'clock, aged 37 years and 6 months.

Death was due to cerebral hemorrhage. About four years ago Mr. Wolfersberger was paralyzed while hunting in Adams county. He had come here to spend a week in the field. About the middle of the week, when the temperature was low and he had exerted himself until he was very tired, he lay down in some grass to rest. When he attempted to rise he found that he had lost the use of his legs.

He recovered somewhat but recently was taken seriously ill again.

Medical Advertising SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggy and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-hair, old, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

WHOLE COUNTRY KNITS FOR EUROPE

In Large Cities Women Work For Soldiers While Traveling.

CROCHET AT SODA FOUNTAINS

College Girls and Others of Every Degree of Social Standing Can Be Found In Odd Places With Their Needles and Yarn, Making Winter Apparel For Fighter and Refugee.

"Well, what do you know about that?" The man drinking malted milk and egg at one end of the soda water fountain in Chicago, says, the Herald of that city, gasped audibly.

"Well, I swear, what do you know about that?" he repeated and choked into his glass.

A chic miss in a big Oxford gray ulster was the cause of his commotion. His appraising and approving eye had marked her arrival, seen her perch herself demurely on a tall three legged stool and give her order; had even noted the trim cut of her gray topped, boot as it stole around one leg of the stool to cinch her seat.

He saw her take off her trim gray gloves, roll them into a neat ball and stick them into the left pocket of her ulster with one hand and with the other extract from her right pocket a wad of white wool stuck full of glittering steel. This wad she straightened out, seized the bright needles and proceeded to knit away as calmly as a grandma by the fireside.

The Mystery Solved.

From beneath her swiftly flying fingers the half of a man's sock fell.

"I didn't think there was a girl in any city in the United States who could do that nowadays," sighed the man with the malted milk, reluctantly taking his eyes from the pretty picture and going his way.

He should not have been astonished, as women in every little town and hamlet are doing the same.

Knitting women and crocheting women, too, have become a commonplace of Chicago sights the past month or more, while women of other large cities in this country also are growing equally industrious, shopgirl and society dame alike.

On street cars, in the elevated, on suburban trains they are there with glittering needles, darning fingers and soft yarns. The things they make are mostly for soldiers on European battlefields and the women and children refugees from those fields. Every minute is precious to the knitter.

In Lecture Room and Gymnasium. In the lecture rooms of the schools and universities, in the gymnasiums, in the tea rooms and waiting rooms of the stores, everywhere that women with leisure hands congregate, knitting and crocheting women are found in numbers.

The co-eds of the University of Chicago shipped a cartload of wearing apparel for destitute women and children to Belgium.

One hundred young women got the material together by working every spare minute day and night for a month and more. The ticking clock and the clicking needles ran rival races in lecture rooms and study halls, a race that is not ended yet, for the making of garments still goes on though the first consignment of relief clothing from U. of C. women has left Chicago.

HOUSEMAIDS GO TO SCHOOL.

Montclair Now Has Courses In Domestic Science For Servants.

In Montclair (N. J.) schools the authorities have inaugurated a course in domestic science instruction that is said to be without precedent anywhere in this country. It is designed to instruct household maids and will be worked out through the co-operation of employers and employees.

The first course will consist of twelve lessons in the elementary principles of cooking, and if this instruction is successful it will be followed by more advanced courses.

A charge of $2.50 will be made for the course, which is at the rate of about 20 cents per lesson. Many women have made arrangements for their household servants to attend the class, which will meet once a week.

TO CORRECT WOMEN'S SHAPES

Pittsburgh University Students to Be Made Physically Perfect.

A course has been inaugurated by the University of Pittsburgh which has for its purpose the eradication of physical imperfections.

Symmetry of form in the feminine is the ideal which the course has for its inspiration, and with this in view young women students will have, under the supervision of experts, medical gymnastics that will correct physical deformities or abnormalities.

"For instance," says the bulletin issued by the university, "if a girl carries one shoulder higher than another she will be given exercises to raise the low shoulder and lower the high one." Also if one hip is lower than another special treatment will be given to that.

The magnificent generosity of the American people in forwarding immense quantities of gifts of foodstuffs to my suffering people affords me intense satisfaction and touches me very deeply.

THREE MEXICAN CITIES HAVE PROCLAIMED A NEUTRAL ZONE

San Luis Potosi, Monterey and Saltillo Ban Fighting Near Them.

The capital cities of three Mexican states, San Luis Potosi, Monterey and Saltillo, have declared their neutrality in the factional war rending Mexico and propose to prevent any military operations in their neighborhood.

The latest novel development in the complicated Mexican situation was reported to the state department from San Luis Potosi. The governor of that state originated the scheme and says that he has obtained the co-operation of the military authorities at Saltillo and Monterey.

If the scheme is successful it will seriously affect the military situation in Mexico, for these cities are important military strongholds, and troop movements through them are necessary in operations between the north and south of the country and against Tampico and the east coast.

The authorities of the three cities declare that they intend to stop all train service between the City of Mexico and Laredo in order to keep troops of the belligerent factions out of their neighborhood. This will end the last means of communication between the City of Mexico and the United States. The Vera Cruz route being already cut in the military operations between the Zapatistas and Carranzistas in the state of Vera Cruz.

PRIESTS AID WAR PRISONERS

Pope Sends Them to Camps, Where They Will Look to Comforts of Men.

In the hope of alleviating the discomforts of prisoners of war and the anxiety of their relatives at home Pope Benedict XV. has instructed all bishops in dioceses wherein are military prisoners to appoint one or more priests who are acquainted with the languages spoken by the imprisoned soldiers. These priests will be instructed not only to offer spiritual counsel, but so far as possible to look after the material welfare of the prisoners.

Particular efforts will be made to discover whether the prisoners have communicated with their families and if they have not done so to persuade them to send word home immediately. In cases where prisoners are unable to write letters the priests will perform this service for them. They will also use every effort to see that such letters are sent home safely.

THIS DOG A REAL EPICURE.

Terrier From Boston Is a Confirmed Vegetarian.

Mrs. M. R. L. Freshel of Boston, president of the Millennium guild, an organization which opposes the slaughter of animals, has a Yorkshire terrier that is a vegetarian.

Sister, as the terrier is known, according to Mrs. Freshel, has never eaten meat.

This is what Sister likes: Lentils, peas, beans, celery, carrots, radishes, lettuce, apples, nuts, eggs, oatmeal and buttered toast.

"Many of our diseases come from eating meat," says Mrs. Freshel, "and when I became a vegetarian twelve years ago I applied the principles to animals. My Sister has never had distemper."

"If folks would only teach their animals to eat vegetables we wouldn't have this fuss over the diseases of dogs."

CHICAGO TO AID UNEMPLOYED

Mayor Suggests Naming of Five Men to Find Jobs.

Mayor Harrison asked Charles G. Dawes to take up with the commission on unemployment the appointment of five employers to work out a plan for providing immediate work for those out of jobs. Mr. Dawes suggested that work could be found cleaning factory yards.

The suggestion was made to the mayor that he appoint a commission of five to devise ways to provide jobs at 50 or 75 cents a day.

Mr. Dawes mentioned Cyrus H. McCormick, James A. Patten, E. J. Buffington and E. H. Gary as the type of men he would recommend for the commission proposed to the mayor, who said he would appoint such a body if it would not interfere with that now existing.

489,733 In French Hospitals. The precise number of wounded treated at French hospitals between Sept. 15 and Nov. 30 was 489,733, according to a report submitted by M. Troussaint, chairman of the army committee to the chamber of deputies. Of this total 248 per cent died.

FEAR OF WOLVES ON BATTLEFIELDS

New Danger Strikes Terror In to Soldiers in Poland.

RUSSIAN OFFICER'S ESCAPE.

Disabled, He Lay at Night With a Dreadful Howling Inclosing Him, Coming Nearer and Nearer—When Beasts Seemed About to Attack Him They Suddenly Went Elsewhere.

The presence of the wolf as a new terror on the battlefields of East Prussia and Poland is described in a letter sent by a Russian officer to a Petrograd newspaper.

Wounded in an engagement which had driven the Germans from their trenches, he found himself later to be the only living soul left on the field of dead. Pulling himself together and leaning on his sword he walked as best he could toward the supposed shelter of his comrades in the woods.

"Just as I reached the edge of the wood," he says, "I stopped in terror. From the distance there came the howling of a wolf. It sounded utterly melancholy and dreadful in the still autumn night. Another wolf answered in the same long drawn, dismal note. The howling drew nearer; presently I heard it all around me, without pause, growing louder and more exultant every moment."

"I am no coward. I am a sportsman and have killed many wolves in hunts, but what I heard that night I can never forget. The chaotic howling which inclosed me like a chain; kept coming closer and closer, drawing to the center of the circle where I was standing."

Dim Moving Shadows.

"I saw clearly there was no chance of saving myself when the circle had closed finally upon me. I went running—how I managed I don't know—toward some bushes a hundred yards away. I reached them and dropped to the ground. I was resolved to fight as long as I could. I had my loaded revolver and my sword."

"The wolves came nearer, and their howling filled the night. Now they were at the border of the wood. In the darkness I could see dim shadows moving slowly between the trees."

"As they came out of the wood from different directions they drew together into one great dark herd and stood thus for some minutes. Then another wolf howled—from somewhere out on the battlefield, and all at once the pack began to move. Without haste, in a little deliberate trot they went past me, past the very clump of bushes where I was sitting with drawn revolver. Not one turned toward me. I watched each one as he went by, expecting that he would spring at me. I don't know how many there were, but there were very many—all trotting so quietly to the field where the dead were lying."

"I was mercifully allowed to lapse into unconsciousness soon after. At sunrise I was picked up, still unconscious, by a Cossack patrol."

DOG FINDS GERMAN TRENCH.

Soldier's Canine Reveals Position of Kaiser's Men to French.

M. Abrami, one of the several French deputies serving in the trenches, has just had his dog, an animal so attached to him that it followed him to the front, carried away by a "Black Maria." The pet's sagacity was remarkable.

Just before a French attack on the German trench the dog, seeing instinctively to understand, went forward alone as if to find the exact position of the trench. The Germans saw the dog coming through the thin mist, but evidently dared not fire for fear of betraying themselves. On arriving in the trench the dog began barking until the French had charged and driven out the enemy.

The dog, said M. Abrami, always behaved with wonderful intelligence and never spoiled a French rush by barking inopportunely. On such occasions he would lie for hours by his master without stirring.

"GEOGRAPHY BEES" LATEST.

War Gives American School Children a New Woo.

The old time "spelling bee" is to give way to the new fashioned "geography bee."

Pupils ambitious to impress their hearers publicly with the fact that they have a greater store of wisdom than opposing teams of students will be faced by some such posers as these: "How do you pronounce Pzenysyl?" "Spelt Wieliczka."

"In what direction does the Bzura river run and where?" Edward J. Tobin, county superintendent of schools of Chicago, believes the European war is making more necessary a broad knowledge of geography of all the world for the pupils of the next generation. He had a meeting with the country life directors and declared there were 500 names of geographical locations which every well read boy and girl should know. The country life directors will help to teach them through the "geography bees" this winter.

Ray Minter, who has a position in New York, spent Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Minter.

Paul D. Wierman and Edwin Roberts, who are students in Franklin and Marshall College, at Lancaster, are spending the holidays with their parents, the former in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wierman, and the latter in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roberts.

Miss Maud Stark, of Pittsburgh, is spending the Christmas season with her sister, Mrs. M. H. Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. Knouss were recent guests in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Trostel and Mr. and Mrs. David Knouss.

Edwin Rice, of State College, is home for a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Rice.

Messrs. J. Floyd Slaybaugh, Edgar R. Lower, and Alfred McCauslin are home from the Shippensburg Normal School over the Christmas season.

Carson Warley, of Gettysburg College, is spending a few days in the home of Rev. D. T. Koser.

Clyde H. Lady from Columbia University, New York City; Ira Lady, a teacher, and his brother, Luther Lady, a student at the West Chester Normal School, are spending the holidays in the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram C. Lady.

Dr. Herbert Thomas, of New York City, was a recent visitor with his aunt, Mrs. Lizzie J. Raffensperger.

Miss Mary Hess, who has spent the last nine months in New York City, is home to spend a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Hess.

Christmas was observed in Arendtsville by three very interesting services.

The first service was held in the Reformed church on Christmas eve by the Sunday School of that church. The church was very tastefully decorated with a large tree, a star and crepe paper. Fifty one electric lights lighted the star and tree. Twenty three of the scholars gave the exercise "Keeping Christmas." Much credit is due the young people who took part in this exercise. The principal feature of the evening's service was a tableau of seven scenes "The Littlest Boy on the Choir" illustrating an old legend of Germany and Austria. The characters were: The Littlest Boy, Edward Rebert; Three Angels, Misses Verna Knouse, Carrie Slaybaugh, Mary Roberts; The Madonna, Miss Lola Wierman; The Mother, Miss Myrtle Orner; The Child, Miss Helen Orner; The Wayfarer, Miss Anna Belle Diehl. These tableaux were without fault. The exercises and tableaux were under the direction of Miss Bess Raffensperger.

The second service was also held in the Reformed church at six o'clock on Christmas morning. This service consisted of songs by the Christian Endeavor choir of the Reformed church, solos by Misses Isabelle Knouse and Mildred Criswell; prayer service conducted by Miss Myrna Comfort. By request the tableaux of the previous evening were repeated. A chorus of twenty five men's voices led by H. K. Raffensperger also added to the program. This service was concluded by a very interesting address by Rev. D. T. Koser. The morning services are held each year by the Christian Endeavor societies of the Reformed and Lutheran churches.

The concluding service was held in the Lutheran church on Christmas evening. The church was very beautifully decorated, being festooned with red and green paper, bells, and a large tree. The scholars in both schools received the usual treat of candy and oranges.

Destroying Nature's Barriers. There are four kinds of barriers or divisions set up by nature upon the face of the earth—mountains, forests, deserts, rivers. The first, the mountains, man cannot remove, but he can and does go through them to save the trouble and difficulty of going over them. The second, the forests, he has largely cleared away altogether. The third, the deserts, he is beginning to treat like the forests. The fourth, the rivers, he is beginning to shift when it suits his purpose and to regulate their flow at will.

Draw Your Own Conclusions.

"Why," asked the weary-looking woman, "do you constantly refer to yourself as the goat of this household?" "Because," replied the irritable man, in a loud tone of voice, "a goat is supposed to be able to eat anything and act as if he enjoyed it."—Washington Star.

SHRAPNEL SHELL

The Shrapnel is really a flying cannon, which shoots its charge while in flight or explodes on impact. Its design involves many interesting features, as the case must be strong enough to withstand the bursting pressure and the stresses developed in firing. The Shrapnel case must be able to withstand a pressure of from 30,000 to 35,000 pounds per square inch from the powder which drives it out of the gun, though it is tested to 40,000 pounds. In addition to this it must resist the charge of explosive in the base of the case; this base charge drives the head and balls out of the case, when a time or distance is used, or explodes it on impact with the earth or any other resisting substance. The expelling or bursting charge exerts a pressure varying from 20,000 to 25,000 pounds per square inch. Further than this, the torsional stress when the case is started whirling through the rifling of the gun by the force behind it, must be counted. This rotation starts the instant the shell begins its movement from the breech of the gun, and when we consider that by the time it leaves the muzzle it must have attained a velocity of 1,700 feet per second, we can begin to see how an acceleration of 500,000 feet per second is attained. These pressures explain why it is necessary to make the cases of such high quality material, a tensile strength of 135,000 pounds to the square inch, an elastic limit of 110,000 pounds per square inch, an elongation in two inches of 11 per cent, and the contraction of area 25 per cent.

WANT CLOCKS OF NATION ADVANCED

Chicago Business Men to Campaign For "More Daylight."

IDEA IS TO GAIN AN HOUR.

United States Chamber of Commerce Will Be Called Upon to Consider Question In February—Our Working Day Must Be Longer to Better Agree With Foreign Time, Says Banker.

The Chicago Association of Commerce will undertake something that President Taft failed to accomplish two years ago. The twenty-four Chicago business men on the executive committee of the association voted unanimously in favor of pushing the nation's clock hands ahead one hour.

A resolution also was passed without dissent calling upon the United States chamber of commerce, with its 400 association members scattered over the country, to consider the question at its annual meeting in February in Washington, with the recommendation of the Chicago body that a nation wide movement be undertaken to gain more daylight at the end of the day.

Avoid Friction of Railroads.

By extending the "get up early" campaign to the entire country the association, it is thought, will avoid any open friction with the railroads, which were set against any local movement because of the confusion that would result in the timetables from having two or three different time schedules.

"The scheme to bring more daylight into the end of the day is well worth any expense or effort to effect its accomplishment," reads the report.

"The advantages to be derived by advancing our standard time one hour are far-reaching, benefiting not only the enjoyment and health of the people, but conserving the natural resources of the country. The disadvantages, which are really inconveniences, are so trifling as to be hardly worthy of consideration.

"There is certainly a live interest in the question in Chicago. Union labor officials have shown personal interest in the proposal, believing it would make for the health, happiness and welfare of the workingman."

"This is one of the biggest and most important questions," said E. U. Kimbark, chairman of the time committee and ex-president of the Chicago association, "if we can only get serious thought on it."

"In six months of the summer the people of Chicago will get 300 extra hours of daylight after working hours, compared with the present system, and of course they will gain many more hours in the other months."

Banker Favors Plan.

John J. Arnold, vice president of the First National bank, asserted that the working people of the city were coming out for the plan on all sides, according to reports gathered by his friends.

"Chicago is five hours and fifty minutes behind London time," he said. "When we get to work in Chicago and get our business started the Londoners are closing up their shops. Now, if Chicago and the rest of the United States are to become world centers for international business we must arrange our working hours so that we can get into touch with the traders of the world and get an answer the same date."

WASTE $200,000,000 IN EGGS.

One in Every Ten Broken in Transit; Three Are Added.

Between the hen and the consumer there is a waste of $200,000,000 of eggs each year.

This was the testimony given at the attorney general's "egg trust" inquiry in New York by William Mann of the law department of the New York Central railroad, who read a letter from the department of agriculture to support his claim.

According to these figures the American egg crop is worth $700,000,000 a year, and $50,000,000 is lost through breakage in transit.

The egg as the hen lays it is almost invariably a good egg, ran the evidence, but one out of every ten eggs the hen lays for market is broken on the way there. Three of the remaining nine eggs are added before they reach the consumer, and 40 per cent of the eggs are good only for strong palates or tanning leather.

Austria Regulates Potato Prices.

The maximum prices for potatoes have been in force throughout Austria. Two hundred and twenty pounds wholesale cost from 9 to 12 kronen ($1.80 to $2.40). People found to be hoarding more potatoes than are necessary for their requirements can be compelled to sell them, and any one contravening the new regulations is liable to a fine not exceeding 5,000 kronen or arrest and imprisonment.

More German Submarines.

Germany is building forty 900-ton submarines, according to a report from The Hague. They will bring her known fleet of "unterseeboote" up to ninety-five. The new vessels are of the latest design, embodying some novel departures from the former type of German submarines.

SPEE FAMILY WIPED OUT.

With End of German Fleet Off Falkland Islands Last of Name Went.

With the annihilation by the English fleet of the German Asiatic squadron, under command of Admiral Maximilian von Spee, near the Falkland Islands, on Dec. 8, the last three male members of the Spee family went to their deaths.

Admiral Spee went to the bottom with his flagship, the Scharnhorst. He was fifty-three years old. His oldest son, Ludwig, died last year in Quito, Ecuador, where he had been stationed as German consul.

Two remaining sons, both lieutenants in the German navy, went down with two of the ships in the ill fated squadron. They were Otto Ferdinand, first lieutenant on the Nürnberg, and Heinrich Franz, midshipman on the Gneisenau.

Two years ago Von Spee's only daughter married Dr. Karl Koenig in Würzburg. Admiral von Spee's wife died several years ago. He leaves no brothers, but several distant relatives are officers in the German army.

ALIMONY IS "FIXED INCOME."

It Has Been So Defined, and Ex-Husband Must Hold Out Tax.

Alimony is fixed income, and the person who pays it must withhold any amounts due under the income tax law. This decision was announced by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborn in a synopsis of rulings on the law, which were in disagreement with previous rulings and supersedes them.

The synopsis makes it clear that, while an American woman who marries a foreigner takes his nationality, she cannot claim exemption on property liable to the tax. Salaries of United States judges appointed since the law was enacted are subject to the tax, as are those of retired judges. The mileage of congressmen is subject to the tax also, except that part actually expended in transportation.

Fees received by preachers are regarded as part of taxable incomes. Christmas gifts are not taxable.

Didn't Startle Rossetti.

Among authors there are some who take but the slightest interest in social or political questions. So far as public questions are concerned they are hardly better informed than Dante Gabriel Rossetti. During the French revolution one of his friends burst into Rossetti's studio with the incredible news, "Louis Philippe has landed in England." "Has he?" said Rossetti calmly. "What has he come for?"

Dry or granulated sugar is of very recent origin. Honey antedated all dry forms of sugar and was for many centuries the only sweet in common use. The Greeks loved it and the Romans sought for it. The Egyptians cultivated it, and in far off Persia honey was the preferred sweet. Before man became civilized enough to use honey he doubtless satisfied his hunger for sweets by eating fruits and vegetables containing natural sugar.
